(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), geographical indications which falsely represent to the public that the goods originate in another territory are not protected by this Act.

(3) For the purposes of this section, registration of a geographical indication under this Act raises the presumption that the geographical indication is a geographical indication within the meaning of Section 2.

(4) Geographical indications registered under this Act cannot become generic, unless they fall into degeneration.

Homonymy/Homonymous geographical indications

6. (1) In the case of homonymous or partly homonymous geographical indications for products, protection shall be accorded to each indication.

(2) The competent authority shall, in cases of permitted concurrent use of homonymous or partly homonymous geographical indications, determine the practical conditions under which such indications will be differentiated from each other.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2), the competent authority shall have regard to the need :

(a) to ensure equitable treatment of the producers concerned; and

(b) to ensure that consumers are not misled.

(c) if there is a sufficient distinction made in practice between the geographical indication that was first protected, and the homonym subsequently protected.

Exclusion from geographical indication protection

7. The following shall not be protected as geographical indications:

(a) indications that do not correspond to the definition of "geographical indication" in Section 2;

(b) indications that are contrary to laws and regulations, public morality, religion, good custom or public order in the territory of the country concerned;

(c) geographical indications that are not or cease to be protected in their country of origin, or that have fallen into disuse in that country;

(d) indications that conflict with names of a plant variety or an animal breed in the territory of the country concerned and are likely to mislead the consumer as to the true origin of the product;

(e) geographical indication that are generic terms in the territory of the country concerned.

Prohibition against improper use of geographical indications

8. (1) No person shall :

(a) in the designation or presentation of goods, by any means, indicate or suggest that the goods originate in a geographical area other than the true place of origin in a manner that misleads the public as to the geographical origin of the goods;

(b) use a registered geographical indication, directly or indirectly, in the course of the trade in respect of goods that are identical or comparable to those of the registered geographical indication where the misuse benefited or would benefit from the reputation of the geographical indication;

(c) use a registered geographical indication, directly or indirectly, in the course of the trade in respect of goods that are non-identical to those of the registered geographical indication where the unlawful use benefited or would benefit from the reputation of the geographical indication;

(d) use a registered geographical indication identifying goods not complying with the specifications or not originating in the place indicated by the geographical indication in question even where the true origin of the goods is indicated or the geographical indication is used in translation or accompanied by expressions such as "kind", "type", "style", "imitation", "method" or the like, including imitation, evocation or translation of the registered geographical indication;

(e) engage in conduct which constitutes an act of unfair competition, being an act of competition contrary to honest practices in industrial or commercial matters and including :

- (i) all acts of such a nature as to create confusion by any means whatever with the establishment, the goods, or the industrial or commercial activities, of a competitor;
- (ii) false allegations in the course of trade of such a nature as to discredit the establishment, the goods, or the industrial or commercial activities, of a competitor;
- (iii) indications or allegations, the use of which in the course of trade, is liable to mislead the public as to the nature, the manufacturing process, the characteristics, the suitability for their purpose, or the quantity, of the goods.

(2) A person who contravenes subsection (1) is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $XXXXX or to imprisonment for XXXX years or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Specific provisions concerning the implementation of such offences shall be determined by prescribed regulations.

(3) Subsection (1) applied to :

(a) the uses of the geographical indication as an ingredient;

(b) the uses of the geographical indication on the Internet, including uses in domain names.

Civil remedies

9. (1) Any interested person may institute proceedings in the Court to prevent, in respect of geographical indications, any act referred to in Section 8.

(2) The Court may, in proceedings under subsection (1), in addition to granting an injunction, award damages and grant any other remedy or relief the Court thinks fit.

Administrative protection

10. The NAME OF THE COMPETENT AUTHORITY FOR ADMINISTRATIVE PROTECTION shall take appropriate administrative and judicial steps to prevent or stop the unlawful use of protected geographical indications to designate goods that are produced or marketed in the COUNTRY.

Detention and Confiscation

11. (1) The competent courts shall have the authority to order the detention of the goods if there is suspicion that the goods are infringing the rights of the geographical indication.

(2) Subsection (1) shall also apply to the materials and core equipment if there is any suspicion they are used in the production of goods to infringe the rights of the geographical indication.

(3) The infringing goods which are imported, exported, sold or offered for sale shall be confiscated by the competent authorities through the courts' decision whether or not anyone has been convicted of the offence (OPTIONAL).

(2) The competent authority shall notify applicants whether the geographical indication will be registered.

(3) When the application duly complies with the requirements, the competent authority shall officially issue an acknowledgement of application and publish

Option 1 : the application in the prescribed manner.

Option 2 : a summary of the application in the prescribed manner.

(4) Where the application does not fulfill the requirements, the competent authority shall issue a letter to the applicant specifying the deficiencies to be addressed.

(5) The applicant may amend an application referred to in subsection (4).

(6) The application shall be deemed to have been abandoned if no amended application is submitted to the competent authority within the DEFINED period unless the applicant provides a reasonable explanation .

(7) The competent authority may seek advice from experts in related fields and if needed take this advice into consideration when making its decision.

(8) Specific provisions concerning the implementation of the geographical indications' examination process shall be determined by prescribed regulations.

Objection/Opposition to registration

17. (1) Any interested party or person may, within the prescribed period and in the prescribed manner from the date of publication, give notice to the competent authority of an opposition/objection to the registration of the geographical indication referred to in section 16 on the grounds specified in paragraph (2).

(2) The grounds for opposition against the geographical indication registration are:

(a) failure to satisfy the definitions relating to geographical indication within section 3 of this Act;

(b) that the applied geographical indication cannot be registered as a geographical indication as stated in sections 7, 8, 13, 14 & 15 of this Act and regulations;

(c) that the geographical indication infringes an existing use of the name or similar name or evocation of the name;

(d) that the geographical indication infringes prior trademark(s) registered in good faith;

(e) that the geographical indication is homonym with another geographical indication and that no differentiation can be made between the two indications.

(3) OPTION 1: The competent authority shall send a copy of the notice referred to in subsection (1) to the geographical indication applicant.

OPTION 2 : The opponent shall send a copy of the notice referred to in subsection (1) to the geographical indications applicant.

(4) Upon receipt of the copy of the notice referred to in subsection (3), the applicant shall, within the prescribed period and in the prescribed manner, send to the competent authority a counter-statement of the grounds on which the applicant relies for his application; and if he does not do so, he shall be deemed to have abandoned the application.

(5) Where the applicant sends a counter-statement and after hearing the parties, if either or both wish to be heard, and considering the merits of the case, the competent authority shall decide whether the geographical indication should be registered.

(6) Parties are entitled to work out proposed rules of coexistence, if needed.

(7) Parties are entitled to work out a phase out period in case of prior geographical indication use as ground of opposition, if needed.

Transitional periods for use of protected geographical indications

18. The producers who were using the name of the geographical indication on their goods marketed prior to the registration of the geographical indication, may only continue to use it for a period no longer than six months/one year/two years, otherwise they will be subject to prosecutions.

Geographical indication registration

19. (1) Where the competent authority is satisfied that the requirements referred to in section 15 have been complied with in respect of an application and

(a) there has been no opposition/objection to the registration of the geographical indication within the prescribed period; or

(b) there has been an opposition/objection to the registration of the geographical indication and the objection has been decided in the applicant's favour, the competent authority shall register the geographical indication, issue to the applicant a certificate of registration and publish a notice of the registration.

(2) The competent authority may grant a phase-in period [not exceeding one year] to allow producers holding stocks of products not complying with the geographical indication registration to market their existing stocks without having to re-label them.

(3) Where, as the result of an objection made under this section or for any other reason, the competent authority is satisfied that the application for registration of a geographical indication does not comply with the requirements of this Act or the regulations the competent authority shall refuse the application.

(4) The effective date of registration is deemed to be the date of the geographical indication application.

Geographical indication register

20. (1) The competent authority shall maintain a Register in which he shall record

(b) the rectification /amendment of the registration of a geographical indication on the grounds:

(i) that the geographical area specified in the registration does not correspond to the geographical indication; and/or

(ii) that the specifications shall be amended, particularly the elements related to the development of technologies and sciences and the delimitation of the geographical area. The amendment of the specifications shall be made if it does not vitally affect the decision of geographical indication registration.

(2) In any proceedings under this article, notice of the request for cancellation or rectification (a) shall be served on the person, owner/right holder who filed the application for registration of the geographical indication; and

(b) shall, by a publication in the prescribed manner, be given to all persons having the right to use the geographical indication under section 30.

(3) The persons referred to in subsection (2) and any other interested person may, within such period as the competent authority or the Court/competent jurisdiction specifies in the notice and publication referred to in that subsection, apply to be joined in the proceedings.

(4) The Court/competent jurisdiction shall notify the competent authority of the decision of the Court/competent jurisdiction or the decision on any appeal therefrom and the competent authority shall record it and publish a notice of the decision as soon as possible.

Option that integrates Registrar competency:

The Registrar shall notify the interested parties of the decision or the decision on any appeal therefrom. The Registrar shall record it and publish a notice of the decision as soon as possible. This decision may be subject of appeal.

(5) The cancellation of geographical indication registration shall be deemed to have been effective from the date of the notice of decision.

Correction of errors

22. The competent authority may, subject to the regulations, correct any error of translation or transcription, clerical error or mistake in any application or document filed with the competent authority or in any matter recorded pursuant to this Act or the regulations.

Extension of time

23. Where the competent authority is satisfied that the circumstances justify it, upon receiving a written request, extend the time for doing any act or taking any proceedings under this law or the regulations, upon notice to parties concerned and upon such terms as he may direct notwithstanding that the time for doing the law or taking the proceedings has expired.

Discretionary power

24. The competent authority shall, before exercising any discretionary power vested in him by this Act in a manner that is likely to adversely affect any party to proceedings before him, give that party an opportunity to be heard.

Publication

25. The competent authority shall publish in the Official Gazette/IP Journal/ and in a newspaper published daily in COUNTRY everything required to be published under this Act.

Jurisdiction of Court (OPTIONAL)

26. (1) The Court has jurisdiction in cases of disputes relating to the application of this Act and in matters which, under this Act, are to be referred to the Court/competent jurisdiction.

(2) Any party aggrieved by a decision of the competent authority may, within TIME TO BE DEFINED after the date of the decision, appeal against the decision to a Court/competent jurisdiction.

National Logo for Certifying Geographical Indication Goods

27. (1) The competent authority/ministry shall constitute a National Logo to certify all registered geographical indication goods in COUNTRY.

(2) The modalities of the national logo are provided by regulations.

PART V REGISTRATION OF FOREIGN GEOGRAPHICAL INDICATIONS

Requirements of Foreign Geographical Indication Registration

28. (1) A foreign geographical indication shall be registered through the submission of the application to the competent authority in accordance with the provisions of the Act and regulations.

(2) A foreign geographical indication shall be eligible for registration as long as the foreign geographical indication is protected in accordance with the applicable laws in its country of origin and is not in conflict with the provisions of the Act and regulations.

(3) The competent authority shall not allow the registration of a foreign geographical indication which has ceased to be protected in its country of origin or has fallen into disuse in that country.

(5) The owner or producer of the geographical Indication shall report to the competent authority on the implementation of the measures, once a year.

Efficiency of the control body

(5) The Geographical Indication owner/right holder or producer shall report to the competent authority on the implementation of the measures.

PART VIII GEOGRAPHICAL INDICATION AND RECOGNITION OR REJECTION OF MARK

Geographical Indication and Marks

35. (1) Where a geographical indication is definitely registered in accordance with this Act, the application for registration of a mark corresponding to one of the situations defined in sections 8 (1) and 30 and relating to the same type of goods shall be refused.

(2) The competent authority shall refuse any application for registration of a mark which is identical with or confusingly similar to, or otherwise corresponds to one of the situations defined in sections 8 (1) and 30 a geographical indication applied before the filing date of application for mark registration and the geographical indication is subsequently protected.

(3) Any mark registered in breach of the subsections (1) and (2) shall be invalidated by the Court at the request of any interested party or at the request of competent authority (if possible).

Misleading marks

36. On the motion of the competent authority or of an interested party, the competent authority shall refuse or invalidate the registration of a mark that contains or consists of a geographical indication with respect to goods not originating in the territory indicated, if use of the indication in the mark for such goods in COUNTRY is of such a nature as to mislead the public as to the true place of origin or otherwise corresponds to one of the situations defined in sections 8 (1) and 30.

Exceptions regarding prior users

37. (1) Nothing in this Act shall prevent continued and similar use in COUNTRY of a particular geographical indication of another country in connection with goods or services by citizens, permanent residents or immigrants of COUNTRY who have used that geographical indication in a continuous manner with regard to the same or related goods or services in COUNTRY:

- (a) for a period of at least 10 years immediately preceding 15th April, 1994; or
- (b) in good faith prior to that date.

(2) Where a trademark has been applied for or registered in good faith, or where rights to a trademark have been acquired through use in good faith

(a) before date of application of WTO obligations; or

(b) before the geographical indication is protected in its country of origin, this Act shall not prejudice the registrability of or the validity of the registration of a trademark, or the right to use a trademark, on the basis that such a trademark is identical with, or similar to, a geographical indication.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall apply in respect of a geographical indication of any country with respect to goods or services for which the relevant indication is identical with the term customarily used in common language as the common name for such goods or services in COUNTRY.

(4) Any request for relief made under PART III of this Act in connection with the use or registration of a trademark must be presented within 5 years after the adverse use of the protected geographical indication has become generally known in COUNTRY or after the date of registration of the trademark in COUNTRY.

(5) Subsection (4) applies only where the trademark has been published by the date of registration of the trademark in COUNTRY, where that date is earlier than the date on which the adverse use became generally known in COUNTRY and provided that the geographical indication is not used or registered in bad faith.

(6) This Act does not affect the right of any person to use, in the course of trade, that person's name or the name of that person's predecessor in business, except where such name is used in a manner that is likely to mislead the public.

Marks having a reputation or renown

38. A name proposed for registration as a Geographical indication shall not be registered or shall be invalidated at the request of any interested party where, in light of a mark's reputation and renown and the length of time it has been used, registration of the name proposed as the Geographical indication would be liable to mislead the consumer as to the true identity of the product.

Coexistence between mark and geographical indication

39. The competent authority shall ensure that, subject to the provisions of section 37 to 39, a mark, the use of which corresponds to one of the situations referred to in section 8 (1), and which has been applied for, registered or established by use, in good faith within COUNTRY, before the date of application of the WTO obligations in COUNTRY, or before the date of application for protection of the geographical indication in COUNTRY, may continue to be used notwithstanding the registration of the geographical indication, provided that no grounds for the invalidity or revocation of the trade mark exist as specified by laws. In such a cases, the use of the Geographical Indication shall be permitted as well as the use of the relevant mark and the Geographical Indication and the trade mark shall not be used in a manner which may mislead the public as to the identities of the respective goods
